Aloha Chair and Council Members,

I recently met Kali Arce at a Farmers Listening session on L_na'i. I support this new position and look forward to see positive changes supporting small farmers and ranchers, developing more opportunities and resources for our outer-island-rural communities on Moloka'i and L_na'i. Mahalo, Lea

Aloha Chair and Council members,

I strongly support Rogerene "Kali" Arce as Director of Agriculture for Maui County. We are blessed to have a Hawaiian wahine of her experience and understanding with all types of agriculture and conservation/preservation experience to head this important department. I look forward to seeing positive developments and support for small farmers and ranchers and those practicing regenerative agriculture in Maui County.

Please approve her swiftly so she can get to her important work!

Dear Agriculture and Public Trust Committee:

I am Cheryl Corbiell, a resident of Molokai and I support the appointment of Kali Arce as the Director designee for the Maui County Department of Agriculture.

I the support the appointment of Kali Arce as the Director Designee for the newly formed Maui County_s Department of Agriculture. She will bring valuable experience and knowledge to this new department through her agricultural and conservation expertise.

Kali has worked in managing a small nonprofit and the ability to secure grants. For example she demonstrated her management skills under pressure by stepping up as Acting Executive Director in the unexpected 3 month absence of the Executive Director after only being employed for 9 months.

In her one-year term, I secured $1.14M in grants which included writing the Legacy Land grant proposals and presenting to BLNR with with the non profit president and the agency was awarded $1.1M for the partial cost of a potential Mapulehu land purchase. She also secured $35K from Maui County OED for the non profit's plant nursery infrastructure. Lastly, she secured $6K from OHA for outreach education for native Hawaiians focusing on Mokio tours and a community open house event.

Kali has also collaborated in my professional capacity as a member of the TNC-Earth Day Planning Committee and the successful Keiki Earth Day program. She developed and conducted these programs with the Earth Day Committee since 1994 (exluding the pandemic years).

Kali has been lecturing as needed for UH Maui College the last 20 years covering agricultural and Hawaiian Field Biology Courses.

I highly support Kali Arce

Aloha Council Members,

I am writing to you in support of the appointment of Rogerene "Kali" Arce to the position of Director of the Maui County Department of Agriculture. Already, Kali Arce has proven herself worthy of the role of Director of Agriculture. I have been consistently impressed with her knowledge, attention to detail, attentiveness and genuine passion to improve Maui County's agricultural future. Kali Arce brings her decades of knowledge, years of schooling and deep community understanding to her work, and we are lucky to have her as a candidate for the Director of Agriculture position. I fully support her appointment, and hope that you join me to support Reso 22-178 to appoint of Rogerene Arce as Director of Agriculture for Maui County.

Testimony Supporting Approval of Rogerene Kali Arce Appointment

Appointment Position: Director of Agriculture, Department of Agriculture, Maui County

My name is Mr. Alton S. Arakaki, a retired County Extension Agent for the Cooperative Extension Service, College of Tropical Agriculture and Human Resources, CTAHR, in the University of Hawaii, Manoa. I served in this position during the period of agriculture transition from pineapple plantation to what we call today a diversified agriculture industry. I retired in December 2018 after serving in this position on Moloka'i for 36 years. I am providing this testimony in support Rogerene "Kali" Arce appointment for the Director of the Maui County Department of Agriculture. I've known Rogerene Arce, "Kali", for more than quarter of a century.

Today you the Maui County Council is about to sharing similar iconic moments with me. About 29 years ago, in 1993, my colleague, Glenn Teves and I were faced with whether or not we should select a newly college graduate named Rogerene "Kali" Arce to fill a vacant Agriculture Extension Agent position in our Cooperative Extension Service office on Moloka'i. Our concern was whether we were being fair to Kali's professional career to be the first FEMALE AGRICULTURE Extension Agent in University of Hawaii's, at that time 86-year Land Grant history and to be swept into a heavily male dominated agriculture extension agent profession and would be required to work directly with a male dominant farming community. Yes, there were female Extension Agents, but they were all in the Human Resource profession, so Kali would be the first. In the end of we decided that she had the academic background, core values, personal character and strong supportive attitude toward the role of agriculture to the sustainability of Hawaii and towards the farmers in the industry. We selected her for the position. We also decided to provide Kali with all the guidance to help her navigate through the profession and farm production community. And finally, we decided to give her all the rope she wanted to take to develop her own extension program that would successfully address the needs of her farmer clientele. And indeed, she took all the rope given to her and excelled.

Today you too will be embarking into iconic moments. It is an iconic moment that the people of Maui County have given birth to a new Agriculture Department, the first in all Hawaii's County governments. And now you are about to engage another iconic moment in deciding whether Kali to serve as our first Director for the Agriculture Department. What better way than to approve the appointment of Kali that will bring 30 years of excellent experience gained from working in both public and private agriculture institutions to start the new County of Maui, Department of Agriculture. What better way than to give the Department of Agriculture a good start with a female leader that have nurturing leadership style but a "imua", "lets move forward" expectation of herself and every team member around her.

In 1993 she started her agriculture career with a public institution, CTAHR, Cooperative Extension Service. She was hired as an Extension Agent to provide agricultural education for Native Hawaiian Homestead farmers on Moloka'i in all agriculture commodities. A tough job. I won't discuss her accomplishments with the Cooperative Extension Service, something you will find and read in her resume. Instead, I would like to provide you with my experience in the reaction from the Hawaiian Homestead farmers and community she worked with for 17 years when she decided to leave the UH, Cooperative Extension Service, in 2010. Like you, you can measure your success in your work by the response you receive from you constituents. Extension Agents can also measure the degrees of success of their program by keeping close contact with their clientele and receiving feedback from them. When she announced her resignation from her Extension Agent position the reaction from the homestead farmers, teachers, government agriculture agencies and non-profit organizations were all of concerns, regrets and at lost of 17 years of professional agriculture relationship they developed with her. Farmers expressed concerns about losing the agriculture production educational program she developed and the many tailor-made projects she conducted with them on their homestead farms. Teachers expressed regrets that the school will be losing their support for their gardening projects and Kali's youth value-add entrepreneurial project call "Radish Patch Kids", government agencies, most were off-Moloka'i, express regrets and lost of Kali that provided them with contacts and broad professional understanding of the Hawaiian Homestead agriculture community on Molokai. She was well-liked and respected by her homestead farmer clientele. Her professional relationship she developed with her farmers was an indication of her skills in developing, managing, acquiring resources for her educational programs that were meaningful, applicable and met the needs of her farmers. Any concerns about her being a female in a male dominant profession and agriculture production industry never came up.

More than 1500 years ago the first group of Polynesians set foot in Hawaii. Their voyages weren't just to satisfy their exploratory curiosity, but rather to find new lands to settle and establish a civilization. To satisfy their nutritional and survival needs the carried on their voyaging canoe were propagation material for 24 different plants and pigs, chickens and dogs. The fastest maturing food plant in the group was sweet potato, which under good growing conditions today would take 90 to 120 days to mature. Original settlers would have to plan for this. It is believed that ancient Hawaiians consumed 7-9 pounds of taro or carbohydrate plants per day. That means at peak population on the Hawaiian Islands, they harvested 5.6 to 9 million pounds of taro every day, and produced everything for their food, shelter, clothing and medicinal needs. By the time Captain James Cook arrived on the Islands in 1778, and during the period of the American Revolutionary War with the British, native Hawaiian existing independently in Hawaii for 1200 years, with a well established and sustainable civilization and a population that would almost rival what we have today. Somewhere in the 1200 year of independent existence in Hawaii, ancient Hawaiians were so confident in their sustainable food production and survival system that they found it was not necessary to hold on to the knowledge of long open ocean navigation and voyaging skills that brought them to Hawaii in the first place. That skill and knowledge was lost. Not until 1976 did we re-learned ancient Hawaiian open ocean navigational skills through Hokulea voyages. The challenges we face today, is can we duplicate what the ancient Hawaiians accomplished in sustaining a civilization in Hawaii for the next 1000 years? Will we ever be able to give up necessities of depending on open ocean voyaging to deliver our food, shelter, clothing and medicinal to sustain our lifestyle in paradise in the middle of the Pacific? While we take great pride in our new discoveries and advancement in the sciences and technologies that have contributed to extending our life span and comfort, I would say we would be hard pressed to duplicate what the original settler of our islands accomplished in sustaining a civilization for the next 1000 years by ourselves. But I feel we have no choice but to try. In fact, we are moving closer to Japan on our tectonic ride than we are toward the mainland where get greater majority of our goods to sustain our lifestyle in Hawaii. During the corona virus pandemic, the United States found that it was a national security risk to outsource the production of goods that are necessary to sustain a healthy nation and now initiating big changes in our supply manufacturing chain in our Made in America campaign. We in Hawaii should be well aware of our situation in the middle of the Pacific and feel a sense of great vulnerability in our security.

Maui County has started to meet the challenges ahead of us by creating close to home the Agriculture Department. Your next step is to appoint Rogerene Kali Arce, a native Hawaiian, a Kamehameha High School graduate, a Hawaiian Homesteader on Moloka'i, who has the academic background in sustainable agriculture and will bring to the Department 29 years of agriculture experience from working in both public and private agricultural institutions. She is someone that understands the value of agriculture and role it plays in sustaining health island communities and its importance towards the diversification our overall economy that today heavily dependent on service-based industries. For these reasons I support the appointment of Rogerene Kali Arce to become the first Director of Agriculture in the County of Maui.

Thank you for allowing me to provide you my supportive testimony on behave of Rogerene Kali Arce in her appointment as Director for the County of Maui, Agriculture Department.

Aloha Council Members,

I am writing to voice my support of Rogerene Arce for the position of Director of the Maui County Department of Agriculture. I have known Kali for many years, and am proud to say I have learned a lot from her. Kali has a very practical way of looking at issues and helping find resolution while removing personal bias. She has a strong background in agriculture, including many various types of production, which I believe will make her a strong balanced representative of the agricultural community overall. Kali has always been a strong advocate for doing what is right and has a strong sense of responsibility for her community and the environment. These are qualities which come through in everything she does. I also believe that as a woman and a mother Kali possesses a view that is shared by so many in agriculture in that not only must we be productive, but we must be responsible stewards, putting back more than we take and educating the future generations, not just on how to farm, but also how to take care of the earth. For these reasons and many more, I wholeheartedly support Kali as the first appointee for this new position.

Thank you for taking time to review my testimony.

Aloha Council Members,

I am writing in support of the appointment of Rogerene "Kali" Arce to the position of Director of the Maui County Department of Agriculture. As a part of the Molokai community, Kali Arce has always been community minded and agriculture focused. She has worked with a large part of our island's Ag community in her previous roles. She has been such an asset to Sustainable Molokai's Ag Experience Program and done so much for the Molokai agricultural community through her former employment at UH College of Tropical Agriculture and Human Resources (CTAHR).

We are so excited to support this nomination and also commend Kali Arce for her efforts on Molokai and beyond. Please support her nomination Kali can begin in this great role for all of Maui County.

Highly recommend Kali Arce for the position of Director of Agriculture for Maui County. Her expertise in all areas related to farming on a large scale operation to helping establish a backyard operation give her the creditability to lead this office. We have first hand knowledge of her expertise as she helped us 22 years ago establish a 2 acre tropical grove which started with 150 fruiting tropical trees.

Aloha Council Members,

I am writing in support of the appointment of Rogerene "Kali" Arce to the position of Director of the Maui County Department of Agriculture. I have had the pleasure of working with Kali through Sustainable Molokai's Ag Experience Program, where I learned just how hardworking, professional, and motivated Kali can be. I am also aware of her outstanding work for the Molokai agricultural community through her former employment at UH College of Tropical Agriculture and Human Resources (CTAHR). I believe the knowledge, passion, and dedication she will bring to this position will benefit Maui Nui and its various agricultural stakeholders. I hope the Council will support her nomination so Deputy Director Weston Yap and Kali can begin the great work ahead of them.

My name is Piilani Augustiro and I am in support of the appointment of Rogerene "Kali" Arce to the position of The Director of the Maui County Dept of Agriculture. I have known Kali for over 10 years, and have worked with her for about 5. I am excited for her and what she is able to bring such as her knowledge in ag, and in natural resources and conservation practices. In regards to natural resources she was instrumental with the installation of agroforestry planting of 11 miles of native Hawaiian trees that increased plant biodiversity that also attracted native pollinators such as the Koa Butterfly. This project won an international award. In conservation practices, she designed and installed a one acre native pollinator habitat that had walking paths and educational signages. This also served as an outdoor classroom for STEM activities. Kali has served in various community groups and organizations, that I feel has helped mold her to be great in her future position as Director, and I know that her passion will also help her do great things within our community as well as our County. Thank you

I have worked with Kali for more than 25 years as a member of my board of directors with the Molokai-Lanai Soil & Water Conservation District, as a partner in projects with UH College of Tropical Agriculture and Human Resources (CTAHR), as Executive Deputy Director with Molokai Land Trust, a lecturer with UH Maui College - Molokai, and just within our island community. Kali is reliable, knowledgeable, trustworthy, hardworking, friendly, independent and always strives to find solutions. She cooperate well within a team setting and is a leader when called upon. I firmly believe that Kali will fit perfectly in this position to promote the management of an agricultural system that addresses Maui County needs.

Aloha Council Members,

I am writing in support of the appointment of Rogerene "Kali" Arce to the position of Director of the Maui County Department of Agriculture. Kali has been taking the time to meet with various agricultural stakeholders to learn about the issues in the ag sector. She has shown an eagerness to help, and she seems very genuine and professional. Her and Deputy Director Weston Yap have really hit the ground running in their new positions and I think they will do a great job leading the Department as it gets up and going. They seem to really balance out each other's strengths and so far all of the folks that I have spoken to about them seem very pleased, after meeting them. I think Kali has the vision to see the potential in growing agricultural opportunities here in Maui County and the drive to make them happen. I hope the Council will support her nomination so they can get started on some very important work for our community.

Officers who meet the required years of employment should be able to retire regardless of their age. Forcing someone to stay to simply reach an arbitrary age to retire is silly. High stress, high impact jobs such as police, fire fighters, paramedics, etc cause significant mental and health impacts on these employees. We should not be forcing them to work longer and erode their health down simply to reach a certain age. Let them work their years and then leave without penalty.

Being a retired Police Officer, I know the problems that can happen when an officer is working day after day with the pressure of doing your job and dealing with the worst side of the community that we have. This pressure is really unknown to most people, but there is a reason that we have a high rate of police Officers leaving the job. With the shorten time for retirement, I see a opportunity for the County of Maui to keep officers within the department as they can now see that there is a chance to serve the community and then making a chance for them to benefit being in the community that they worked and sacrificed for during their careers for their retirement. In Keeping the age and time requirements will continue to have the officers look at something better for their families and themselves.

My name is Nicholas Krau and as a resident of Waikapu, Maui County Police Officer and the Chairman of the Maui Chapter of the State of Hawaii Organization of Police Officers (SHOPO) I am in full SUPPORT of Resolution 22-195. I am not directly impacted by this resolution as I am grandfathered on the "old" retirement system. However, I can tell you first hand that we are loosing out on the opportunity to hire great local police applicants because of the eroding police officer benefits. We all know that police officers are not the most well liked professionals, but I think we can all agree that the profession is a very necessary one.

I fully support this measure. As it currently stands police departments all across Hawaii and especially Maui are experiencing challenges with hiring and retention. A large driving force behind these problems is that there a much better compensation, retirement, and benefit plans being offered by other mainland departments. Most mainland departments are on a 25 year retirement system, offer higher wages relative to the cost of living, and some are even offering upwards of $20,000 bonuses for certified officers to lateral to their department. The fact is that departments all across the nation are fighting for quality candidates. In order for Hawaii to continue to have a quality and staffed police force, we need to start competing with the benefits being offered by other mainland departments. If we fail to do that, officers will feel less supported by their community and government, and will unfortunately leave to departments that offer better support systems and benefits for their officers. We are fighting for every last officer we can get and right now we're losing. We too may reach a point where 9-1-1 calls go unanswered because we don't have the staffing numbers to uphold adequate response times. Investing in a better retirement system will not only incentivize current officers to stay in Hawaii and continue to serve our great community, but it will encourage others to become the next generation of officers that we so desperately need. We need this bill to pass in order for Hawaii to remain the paradise so many of us know it be. Please save our officers in order to save our community.

Not only does this support the counties, but it supports the policemen! Currently officers have to reach the rank of captain and most likely major to create a livable pension by the time they retire... we are losing officers by the dozens thought each county for mainland recruitment. Officers much like myself have considered leaving due to increased cost of living and the department not increasing wages to compete with mainland counterparts and out rising cost of living within the islands, we are losing officers to mainland bonuses of 20-40k and a better retirement. If we do not bring back a better retirement system for us officers we will continue to lose officers and lack the recruitment numbers needed to fill out already depleted numbers. Let's give the officers something to work towards, add overtime too, and retire with 25 years instead.

Please take this into consideration on all accounts.

Guest User

Location:

We need to recruit new officers and retain current officers. The current retirement plan is sub-par and we are losing officers to mainland agencies that are offering $25k-$40k sign on bonuses along with much better retirement plans, as well as a lower cost of living. We are nearing a point when we are going to lose more officers than we are hiring. Please return officers pension and retirement plans to a 25 year service commitment, where overtime counts towards your retirement, and spouses have benefits. If not, expect to see more officers leave and less officers attracted to service in the state of Hawaii. Police service is hard enough as it is, please give officers something to look forward to at the end of their service to the people of Hawaii. If you want driven, hard working men and women serving our community, give them something that shows that when they reach the finish line they have something to show for it. If not, expect a severe shortage of men and women that are willing to serve their community and risk their lives for scraps from the table for themselves and their families. Missed birthdays, missed Christmases, missed time with their families, missed good-nights, and missed special moments are things officers can never get back. It's high time we show officers that their community and the government appreciates and respects the sacrifice that first responders make when they sign up for this job. Being an officer, it's a calling...but that call has to be met with something for the officers and their families to look back on and know that they gave their all, and their community and government leaders will make sure that in the end, everyone wins.

I am a police officer and was hired in 2014, which means I have to work 30 years of service before I can retire. I feel that 30 years is a long time and it should be changed back down to 25 years. I will make 30 years of service when I am 55 years old and the age shouldn't matter for when you can retire, it should be the years because that isn't fair for people who were hired at 21 compared to if you wait to be hired when you're 30. We need more police officers and this requirement isn't helping new people want to become a police officer.

The 25 year service plan should never have been taken away. Whoever made this decision or whoever caused this decision to me made should be fired. Everyone working now needs to suffer for 30 years or more because of this decision. Being forced to work beyond 25 years as a police officer, especially if you're a patrolmen is nuts. If this service plan is not changed departments across the state will never meet recruitment needs. 10 years and out will be the new goal.

Statistics shows that people in high stressful jobs is very taxing on their physical and mental health Some don't live to long after retirement. Plus not everyone enters the department at the age of 21.

Police work is exhausting and mentally caustic. I believe the mental health of police officers is never addressed during their career and having them forced to work passed 25 years is dangerous for both officers and the community. Removing the age restriction JUST MAKES SENSE ON EVERY LEVEL.

I support this resolution. As a recently retired Maui LEO, I can attest to the toll this profession takes on the physical and mental well-being of an individual and their family. It's a stressful and many times unappreciated job. Many times a broad brush is used to paint all LE officers by the unlawful actions of an officer. I believe if the age requirement for retirement is removed, this will make the LE profession a little more attractive to those who want to serve their communities.

Policing is unlike any other profession. It takes it tole on those who step up. Also it is just not safe to have older cops on the road dealing with young offenders. The average police officer only lives 10 years past retirement. Let them retire in price.

I strongly SUPPORT the proposed resolution to amend the retirement age and service year requirements for Police Officers. I am currently a Police Sergeant with MPD with 27 years of service. The proposed resolution will help with keeping officers on Maui and will definitely help with recruitment to serve the County of Maui and help end the shortage of Police officers. If you care about the community of Maui County and the citizens pass the proposed resolution.

A lot of Departments on the mainland have 20 years of service for retirement. For 30 years of service to retirement for Police Officers is too long. The stresses on officers and their families, liability, and physical strain on the job 30 years is too long. Do what is right and please pass the proposed amendment.

I strongly oppose the removal of being able to retire @ the age of 55 without 25 yrs of service. Being a police officer at any age pass 55 or older is physically challenging and we should be able to choose to retire even without 25yrs of service. Exposing ourselves to the normal volatile conditions involving people 20 to 30 years younger than ourselves, pushing our body to pass our own physical limits and beyond exhaustion wears and tears on us as Police officers especially pass the age of 55. If I could start life again, I would still choose to be a Police officer. I love my community, I love knowing that I've made a difference and helped families, but I want others to know and to be heard on how physically, mentally draining & stressful this career can day after day, year after year especially at or after the age of 55. I should be able to retire if I choose to at 55yrs of age without 25 yrs of service if I know it time my time.

Dear Mayor and County Councilmembers,

I would like to write in SUPPORT of the proposed resolution to amend the retirement age and service year requirements for Police Officers. I am currently a Police Officer with the Maui Police Department and was hired prior to 2012. Though this proposed resolution will not affect me, I am still in strong SUPPORT for this amendment. There currently exists two groups within the Maui Police Department (MPD). Those on the old retirement, with 25 years or age 55 and those on the new retirement with 30 years or age 60. This creates somewhat of a resentment amongst some officers who must work side by side with officers, and yet receive a lesser retirement. The "old" group works 25 years and get 2.5% per year of service of their average final compensation (or what is known as "high three"). The "new" group works 30 years and gets 2% of their 5 years base salary rate. Therefore, the old group gets 62.5% at minimum for 25 years, and the new group gets 60% minimum on a lower final compensation amount for 30 years of service. They must work 5 years longer to receive less percentage of a retirement. Most officers understand this difference and have already expressed a desire to leave if this is not changed in the future.

Please consider passing this new amendment to restore equality in retirement amongst MPD officers and to help protect and retain officers currently working for MPD.

I fully support the removal of the minimum age requirement for retirement. With the cost of living and housing on Maui, it's already hard enough to recruit and retain qualified officers to keep us safe from the ever increasing crime on the island. If we wish to be able to compete for qualified men and women to be police officers with departments on the mainland that pay more and have a lower cost of living, we need to start by removing the minimum age requirement for retirement for officers, and putting it at or below the number of years required by those departments on the mainland. Additionally, to ask someone to work under the conditions that are required for police work for 30 years is too much. The physical training, long hours, lack of sleep, shift work, stress, diet, sitting, exposure to elements and other hazards, and generally unhealthy lifestyle that is officers are subjected to, substantially shortens the lives police officers. Requiring the men and women who knowingly subject themselves to the dangers of police work, to do it for 30 years, is a disservice to the officers, and the community that they keep safe.

Working as a police Officer is extremely stressful and difficult for many older officers due to natural physical deterioration, as well as the fact that there are always young men and women stepping into the criminal role yet officers age.

There are numerous documented health risks with the profession if an officer puts in their 25 years of service and feels compelled to leave due to physical or psychological damage, they should be afforded the opportunity to retire and hopefully be able to enjoy good health in retirement. 25 years of service as a police officer is very commendable. Requiring an age be met also can be a deterrent when attempting to attract candidates for the field of work.

Police departments nation wide are struggling to acquire qualified individuals, the State and counties need to make the retirement package better to attract qualified candidates.

Those men and women who protects my family dearly deserves to retire after 25 years of service regardless of their ages. 25 years is a bit too long for police officers before retiring. They have to sacrifice and endure a lot of bad approaches from a lot of bad people. 20 years of solving crimes and enduring negative lifestyles should be the maximum retirement for our officers.

It was a terrible idea to change the retirement in the first place. Recruiting and retention has suffered ever since. We are in a staffing emergency and something has to be done soon. This would be a start. There are many departments in the country requiring only 20 years of service for retirement and offering higher pay. We are competing with all of these departments for personnel. This change would not affect me as I am in the old system but I would like to see this changed for the new officers as they deserve it. Historically law enforcement has careers with early retirement 20-25 years because the life expectancy of police officers are significantly less than the average lifespan of civilians. There are many studies available to confirm this.

I am very appreciative of Councilwoman Paltin who introduced this Resolution on behalf of our police officers and community. Removing the age requirement from the police officer retirement system will help police officer recruitment and ensure our community is getting the best and most qualified applicants to serve Maui County. This is a great first step for improving public safety in our entire state and I am very proud of our Maui County Council and Community for leading this effort. I am on the "old" retirement system that also does not have an age requirement, so this change would not directly impact my retirement. My support for this Resolution is so that the people of Maui County may have a fully staffed police department and the police service they deserve.

I strongly support the change back to 25 years. I've been employed by the Maui Police Department for more then 20 years now and for officers that are hired after 2012 to have to work 30 years instead of 25 is very heart breaking. We all know being a police officer is one of the most stressful jobs out there and studies have shown nation wide that most officers don't live far to long after retirement and this was shown with 20 and 25 year plans. For an officer to have to work 30 years to be eligible for retirement has to change. From what I've seen ever since the Department adopted the 30 year plan it has been much harder to retain police officers in the County of Maui as the plans in the mainland offer better retirement of 20-25 years. What person wants to work and extra 5-10 years now when they can move to the mainland and retire much earlier then in Hawaii. I think this change alone will help bring in more officers and help retain them from leaving to other outside agencies with better options. We need to keep Hawaii safe and part of that solution is with police officers working in our neighborhoods. And in order to do that we need to bring our recruitment up and this is one way to do it is by changing our retirement back to a better retirement age that will benefit the officer, his/her family, the department, and the people of Hawaii where they will have this officer working their community instead of possibly leaving to work somewhere else with a better plan.

Aloha, I am a Police Officer with the Maui Police Department. I have entered the department after the new retirement was already in affect. I later understood later on through my 7 years within the department that 30 years is a lot and with less retirement benefits or pay than members with the old retirement plan.

I feel that it is unfair only that Policing in this day an age is harder. People don't respect Police Officers as they use to in the past. We are being scrutinized on many things not even involving Officers here in Hawaii but the perspective of Officers in general. Crime and emergencies are up and rising and we are short handed.

I have worked countless holdovers and call backs including on my days off to support the department. And taking time away from my family. I feel that the retirement we have is not worth the wait. The retention for Officers is diminishing when the help is needed. I could go on and on.

I hope this letter finds you well, Mahalo for your time.

There are many great departments throughout the United States that have 20 and 25 year retirement plans. We have list several great officers to Washington State due to their 20 tear retirement plan. We can't compete with our current plan. Our staffing levels are at a crisis with no end in sight. We may get to hire a few good officers. However, I personally know of 3 officers that are only staying 2 years and then transferring as a lateral hire to the main land where they can work less years and get a better retirement plan. This is a new trend and will not be stopping any time soon. The only way to combat this crisis is to offer a better retirement plan. We must RECRUIT and RETAIN. That is the ONLY logical way forward. We MUST be competitive with other departments.

I'm a current MPD sergeant. I was hired in 2014, after the age requirement and time in service for retirement was changed. I personally know several officers who have left MPD due to our retirement restrictions. I strongly believe that lowering the age for retirement is needed. We also should consider changing time in service to 25 years. Currently, a police officer would need to serve 30 years to get max retirement benefits. Officers hired after the retirement changes in 2012 miss out on many benefits. The old contract allowed retiring officers to count the average of their top 3 years of service (including overtime). Current contract calculates the average of their top 5 years of service (excluding overtime). Also, old contract allowed officers spouse to be included in health care plan after retirement. Current contract doesn't include spouse. We need to make changes to our retirement or risk losing good officers.

There should not be a minimum age requirement. If an officer dedicates 25 years of his life to the safety and well being of his community, it shouldn't matter how old he is when he fulfills his 25yr commitment.

The everyday stresses and demands of being a police officer takes a toll on one's mental and physical health. Retirement is well-earned after 25 years of service. Age should not be part of the equation and this criteria should never have been changed. Hawaii's law makers are strongly urged to support a 25 year retirement with no age requirement for police officers. Thank you.

Being a police officer in this day and age is hard enough as it is without the added stress of long term retirement. 25 years is 5 years too long as most mainland departments (with way lower costs of living) have 20 year retirements and retain their officers much much better. Look at all the great officers that have already left because of the ridiculous contracts that benefitted only the top tier and old timers. While i am heavily in favor of a shorter retirement period, watch how many more leave before this ever becomes a reality.

I am in full support of this. Hawaii needs to do something about the current pension in order to be appealing to both in state and out of state applicants. This is a step in the right direction and is necessary in order to begin the process of recruiting people and filling the hundreds of vacancies each department has. Our job as Police Officers is to protect each and every one of you day in and day out, putting our lives on the line every single day. It's time do your jobs and protect the Officers by removing the age requirement.

25 years of service is admirable in any profession and exceedingly commendable as a first responder. With the mental and physical toll it takes on one's body, I believe there should not be a minimum age limit to reach retirement and 25 years of service is more than to ask for an officer to retire with benefits.

Honestly if the job was rewarding and enjoyable you wouldn't have to worry about police officers wanting to retire "early".. the very fact that this issue is up for decision proves that there is something wrong with the system.

Do you honestly believe that an officer or any one in any profession can work for 26 years and leave with no benefits.

Yes, thank you for your service but there's the door if you can't stay for 30 years or aren't 55 years old.

25 years is more time than most criminals get for class A felonies and they still cost tax payers more than an officer who actually works for his benefits..

Think about it...

Nobody wants to be a police officer for 3 decades just to earn a retirement. I would suggest the 25 years and/or age. I would also suggest giving health care coverage to spouses and including overtime in their "highest paid years" whether it be 3 or 5. I don't think it's fair that I DOUBLED my income last year working so much overtime and not have anything to show for all the time missed away from my family.

When your career involves protecting your community 24/7, it takes a total toll on your mind and body. Your life is drastically reduced due to the obvious and studies have shown life after retirement for LEOs is about 7 years. Having to put in 30 plus years to retire is not an incentive and will continue to add to the shortage of LEOs.

It is true and the stress induced lives of police officers is what kills them. Unusual shift work, rotating from day to night to afternoon. Sir and Ma'am,

As a current police officer serving under the "new" 30 year plan with the age 55 I can tell you that any person who I speak to I advise to not join this department simply due to this poor retirement system. It is disheartening to know that we have to get to this point for you to do something that never should have been implemented in the first place. I know several officers, myself included, that are willing and actively looking for other departments in the mainland for the better retirement as in a 25yr. To expect someone to spend 30 years as a officer is idiotic. Not just expect but demand at this point with this retirement system. This needs to be changed now if you want our citizens to stay protected by having correct staffing, otherwise your just setting the citizens and us up for failure. Do your job and fix what you broke.

I joined the Police Department at the age of 22 and have now been in the department for almost 10 years. Since starting I have noticed the work load for patrol officers have greatly increased causing more and more officers to transfer or resign. When an officer transfers or resigns it leaves our department even more short staffed. With the number of vacancies in the department it is also limited opportunities for promotions. For an officer to be stuck on patrol working 30 years is extremely taxing and unappealing. I highly suggest we remove the minimum age requirement for police officer retirement.

Support! 25 years of service is honorable and a worthy accomplishment. Let's not hold a age requirement over the members head to delay retirement. Dear Sir or Madam,

As a current police officer serving under the original 25 year requirement without age 55, I can tell you this is awesome. As we currently stand, the years of service and age requirement is a major contributing factor with young officers not joining, or deciding to leave. The job of a police officer is unique and unattractive under this current system and will increase the departure from this professions. I said it many times, a police officer is not like another government job. By the time you hit 25 years, it's usually in the interest of the officer that they consider moving on from this type of service. Thank you.

Aloha Committee Chair Molina and Committee Members,

I am submitting this testimony on behalf of the REALTORS Association of Maui and our 2,000+ members in my capacity as their Government Affairs Director. The REALTORS Association of Maui (RAM) is deeply concerned over the amendments to the Landlord-Tenant Code that are proposed in Resolution 22-196, and we strongly urge this committee to file the resolution and pursue other options.

It is clear that Resolution 22-196 is well intentioned and seeks to address some very real problems that are having an acute effect on our community. Nevertheless, the changes sought in Resolution 22-196 are not likely to solve our current rental housing crisis. If the bill attached to Resolution 22-196 was ever actually passed by our state legislature, it would create the perfect market conditions for even higher inflation in the rental housing market, and almost certainly reduce inventory of private rental housing overall. To put this in terms of the commonly mentioned metaphor of the “house on fire,” this legislation is likely to add fuel to the fire.

Recent and severe increases in rental housing costs are not specific to Maui County, or even the State of Hawaii. Instead, this is a growing issue both nationally and globally. This issue largely stems from a severe lack of rental housing inventory (particularly at lower cost levels), and largely a result of increased inflation overall. There is a robust body of economic research that has analyzed the impacts of rent control in communities where it has been implemented, and that research generally indicates that rent control leads to decreased inventory (particularly at lower cost levels), and significantly less reinvestment in rental housing from landlords (i.e. higher costs for lower quality housing, or, inflation). These impacts will only make our rental housing market more difficult for our residents in the long run. Additionally, there are a slew of other unintended consequences that will have to be combated as well. Some of these consequences might include:

- Refusal to grant 12 month leases or let tenants stay beyond 12 months in order to avoid being subject to these proposed revisions to the landlord tenant code.
- Increased evictions for minor infractions in order to remove tenants without having to lose a month of rent or be subject to these proposed amendments. This would create broader housing insecurity because landlords often check court records and avoid renting to tenants that have had an eviction action filed against them.
- Changes to the standard rental contract that incorporate the maximum number and amount of rental increases allowed under law. This would essentially guarantee 5% rent increases each year for the first 2 years of every tenancy (as there is a limit to 2 increases every 36 months for the same tenant).
- Significant inflation on the value of new leases once this is implemented, because property owners will be aware that they may be likely to lose the last month's rent and their security deposit will become largely meaningless. Therefore, 11 months of rent will soon cost as much as 12 months used to, in order to make up the difference for the potential loss.
- Increased burden on landlords, as they will be likely to lose the 12th month's rent if the tenant is given no-fault notice, and they will also be limited on covering repair costs with the restrictions the Landlord-Tenant Code already places on use of the security deposit. If landlords feel this new law is overly burdensome, they will remove their rental housing from the market or sell to someone else, which may have the same impact in the end.

Ultimately, if the County of Maui wants to address the issues of inventory and inflation, there are other solutions that could be pursued more effectively. You are already doing outstanding work in your efforts to bring new inventory online through new development and through existing incentives, but greater efforts could be made on “public/private partnerships” with property owners through new incentives. Rather than imposing new rules and threats of penalties on landlords, the county should make better efforts to establish robust incentives for landlords who are willing to work with the County of Maui and help solve the housing crisis.

For example, the county could provide monetary incentives and continued support services to local landlords who are willing to give long-term leases at affordable rates. The monetary incentives could be something like a signing bonus and improved real property tax rates, and the support service could be grants for damages that exceed the security deposit and/or access to discounted services from qualified local contractors that are vetted by the county. Similarly, you could scale the incentives in relation to the length of the lease provided and the income level that the lease targets. To go a step further with the incentive idea, the county could also consider increased assistance related to the development of ohana units on private residential properties, and have favorable financing, grants, and expedited permitting linked to the use of the ohana for kamaaina rental housing. These are just a few ideas that might help address the root causes of our rental housing crisis without the likely result of reduced inventory.

We are in a housing crisis, and I applaud Councilmember Johnson and this council for your continued efforts to address this crisis. Though I agree with your motives, the good intentions behind Resolution 22-196 are not sufficient to remove the likely consequences of the legislation. Good intentions do not automatically make good law. Even if you do not file Resolution 22-196, I strongly urge you all to conduct further research on the history of rent control and its impacts, and to pursue more incentive-based alternatives.

Mahalo,

Jason A. Economou
Government Affairs Director

Rather than imposing new rules and threats of penalties on landlords, the county should make better efforts to establish robust incentives for landlords who are willing to work with the County of Maui and help solve the housing crisis.

For example, the county could provide monetary incentives and continued support services to local landlords who are willing to give long-term leases at affordable rates. The monetary incentives could be something like a signing bonus and improved real property tax rates, and the support service could be grants for damages that exceed the security deposit and/or access to discounted services from qualified local contractors that are vetted by the county. Similarly, you could scale the incentives in relation to the length of the lease provided and the income level that the lease targets. To go a step further with the incentive idea, the county could also consider increased assistance related to the development of ohana units on private residential properties, and have favorable financing, grants, and expedited permitting linked to the use of the ohana for kamaaina rental housing. These are just a few ideas that might help address the root causes of our rental housing crisis without the likely result of reduced inventory.

We are in a housing crisis, and I applaud Councilmember Johnson and this council for your continued efforts to address this crisis. Though I agree with your motives, the good intentions behind Resolution 22-196 are not sufficient to remove the likely consequences of the legislation. Good intentions do not automatically make good law. Even if you do not file Resolution 22-196, I strongly urge you all to conduct further research on the history of rent control and its impacts, and to pursue more incentive-based alternatives.
