Aloha Council Members:

Trap, spay, neuter results in stable cat populations that eventually die off. You will never be able to kill all cats on Maui because people dump their pets when they move to the mainland. Survivors breed more when the population is threatened. It is mongeese who eat bird eggs, not cats. Ludicrous that cats affect seals. Riki has no foundation for her claims. It is more fear-mongering, like Covid-19.

Have a heart (and brain),
