

Maui Jim Maui Invitational®
Hosted by Chaminade University

Information Specific to the Tournament's Annual Direct Spend with Maui County Businesses

The Maui Jim Maui Invitational contracts with and utilizes the services of many Maui County businesses. The following is just a snapshot of services and goods that Maui County businesses provide for the November event.

- People Who Clean (PWC)
PWC is hired by the Tournament to provide cleaning services each day of the Tournament as well as nightly cleanings including the bleachers. In addition, the Tournament pays for PWC to provide a deep clean to the facility after the last game on Wednesday night, as well as the following Monday so the facility is left in the same condition as it was received.
- Printer Pete, Inc
The Tournament works with Printer Pete, Inc. in Kahului to produce the championship t-shirts that are sold on site after the Championship game. After the semi-final games, Printer Pete goes into production to print approximately 1,000 t-shirts so they are ready for the following day's game.
- Island Catering
Island Catering provides onsite catering not only for the Stadium Club and Media Center serving breakfast, lunch and dinner to attendees, but also the onsite catering for the Tournament's TV production working crew members.
- First Hawaiian Bank
First Hawaiian Bank is the primary financial institution where the Tournament deposits daily box office receipts during the Tournament.
- Pacific Portables
The Tournament rents additional bathrooms for use by ticket holders. They are placed on the venue exterior.
- Polynesian Adventure Tours
PAT provides the on-island chartered bus services for not only the participating teams but provides bus services for boosters traveling between the Host Hotels and the Lahaina Civic Center
- Timpone Hawaii
Annually, the Tournament presents each participating school a full-sized, eight-foot hand-crafted surfboard to mark their milestone journey to Maui. Each board is expertly shaped by master craftsman, Jeff Timpone, of Timpone Hawaii, who is based in Haiku. On average, 15-20 customized surfboards are ordered each year by the Tournament.
