

MAUI HOMELESS ALLIANCE (MHA)

A Chapter of the Bridging the Gap (BTG)
Continuum of Care (CoC) – Balance of State

Why are people homeless?

Research shows people are homeless because they can't find housing they can afford. According to HUD, an estimated 12 million renter and homeowner households now pay more than 50 percent of their annual incomes for housing, and a family with one full-time worker earning the minimum wage cannot afford the local fair-market rent for a two-bedroom apartment anywhere in the United States. The generally accepted definition of housing affordability is no more than 30 percent of monthly income going toward housing costs. Anyone paying more than 30 percent of their income for housing are considered "cost-burdened" and can have difficulty affording necessities such as food, clothing, transportation, and medical care.

The lack of affordable housing is a significant hardship for low-income households and can prevent them from meeting their other basic needs, such as nutrition and health care, or saving for their future.

Definition of “HOMELESS”

A person is considered homeless only when he/she resides in one of the places described below:

- Not meant for human habitation, such as cars, parks, sidewalks, abandoned buildings (on the street)
- In an Emergency Shelter (ES).
- In Transitional or Supportive Housing for homeless persons who originally came from the streets or ES.
- In any of the above places but is spending a short time (up to 30 consecutive days) in a hospital or other institution.
- Is being evicted within a week from a private dwelling unit and no subsequent residence has been identified and lacks resources and support networks needed to obtain housing.
- Is being discharged within a week from an institution, such as a mental health or substance abuse treatment facility or prison, in which the person has been identified and lacks resources and support networks needed to obtain housing.
- Is fleeing a domestic violence housing situation and no subsequent residence has been identified and lacks resources and support networks needed to obtain housing.

DOES NOT MEET THE HUD DEFINITION OF HOMELESS

- Persons living in housing, even though they are paying an excessive amount for their housing, the housing is substandard and in need of repair, or the housing is crowded.
- Persons living with relatives or friends.
- Persons staying in a motel, including a pay-by-the-week motels.
- Persons living in a Board and Care, Adult Congregate Living Facility, or similar place.
- Persons being discharged from an institution that is required to provide or arrange housing upon release.

Homeless Individuals in Maui County

2015 Homeless Utilization Report – Annual count showed

- In emergency / transitional shelters: 1,557
- Unsheltered : 1,328
- FOR A TOTAL 2,885

This report ONLY counts those individuals who:

1. Have requested assistance
2. Have agreed to complete an INTAKE and
3. Have the INTAKE entered into the Homeless Management Information System (HMIS) database

Outreach staff estimates that 50% of their encounters do not result in a completed INTAKE – $1,557 + 1,328 + 1,328 = 4,213$ (real count) 5

2016 Point In Time (PIT) Count

Conducted January 24, 2016

Partners in Care (PIC) representing Oahu, and Bridging the Gap (BTG) representing Hawaii County, Maui County and Kauai County, are Hawaii's Continuum of Care (CoC). The CoC is a local planning body designed to promote community wide commitment to the goal of ending homelessness.

What do you mean when you say “CoC”?

There are states, cities, counties, communities, districts – and then there are Continuums of Care.

Like those other terms, a “Continuum of Care” (CoC) simply refers to an administrative geographical unit – the local or regional body that coordinates funding and services for homeless people.
